

Please do not allow wisconsin's no call law to be weakened. Had I been aware of this list, I certainly would have registered as nothing is more annoying then telemarketers calling at sensitive times. As a consumer,I would prefer to find solicitors via the net, when I have identified my own needs. It was taught to me that states have the authority to superceed national laws as long as they were stricter, more comprehensive. I feel that as this is the case, wisconsin's law should stand.
